

Harry Hunks*Revolutions from pink to pale* EP

PRESS RELEASE

25.10.2004

We are proud to announce that Revolutions from pink to pale, a new EP by the Finnish indie pop band Harry Hunks, is released on October 29th 2004 by the Marsu on paras label.

Revolutions from pink to pale was recorded in August 2003. It is the third release from this Helsinki-based band. This time, the band was joined in the studio by a number of friends who brought a wider range of acoustic instrumentation to the recorded songs. The result is a five-song EP which combines Harry Hunks' nostalgia for the Finnish popular songs of the 60s and 70s with the band's love for quiet folk tunes. Based on the feedback received so far, the mix is successful: with comparisons ranging from The Divine Comedy to Wilco, for example, it seems fair to assume that the band has managed to create a record that sounds more than the sum of its influences.

We hope you enjoy the record.
